“Two years ago, my close friend Tammy died while checked into a local hospital for flu symptoms. They told us she died from pneumonia, but we knew that wasn’t the case. In fact, she had sleep apnea and was put on a heavy narcotic but was not seen by a doctor or properly monitored. She died within minutes.

“I was put in charge of Tammy’s affairs and got really lucky when I was referred to Gene Moen. This was the first time I worked with an attorney, and Gene and his whole office did a phenomenal job. I was in good hands the entire time. Gene was clearly doing this from the heart, and he knew how important it was to fight for a settlement to take care of her three young sons. They will now be able to get the education Tammy wanted for them.”
